OUR STORY

Design is at the center of everything we create.

For 2026, our collection brings together modern illustration, refined typography, and considered materials to deliver paper goods that feel intentional, contemporary, and beautifully made.

We produce our in-house lines locally in the United States, allowing us to maintain precise quality control while reducing transportation impact. Our products are printed on responsibly sourced papers, including FSC-certified and recycled stocks, and manufactured with energy-efficient processes that support long-term sustainability.

Across greeting cards, wrap, calendars, and stationery, you'll find a clear design philosophy: thoughtful composition, elevated color, and a tactile integrity that makes each piece a pleasure to hold and share. Paired with our artist collaborations and the iconic humor of The New Yorker, this season reflects our commitment to excellence in both craft and environmental care.

Beautiful in form. Responsible in production.
Welcome to Nelson Line 2026.

Rue Madeleine

Here's to golden hours
and champagne laughter

Joy looks good on,

Rue Madeleine is a quiet corner of Paris where beauty meets intention. Inspired by the charm of handwritten gestures, the poetry of everyday life, and the feelings that linger between words, every card turns a simple sentiment into a keepsake you'll cherish forever.
